Power Mig 110 ... I've been using the Astro 110 model for a couple of years and have been pretty happy with this machine. There is definitely a problem with the wire sticking and you have to be careful to keep the lead as straight as possible. The other problem is the drive system is almost all plastic and it will break. It was only about $15 to replace though. Astro Power Powermig 110 Torch Liner Conduit Replacement; ... Mig on alum less than 1/16" thick will be an effort in frustration. Alum mig is simply too hot a process. Some have had "success" on 1/16" alum with small migs, but the pics I've seen of their results, the vast majority of the welds are cold. ... i got a astro mig 130 at a yard sale for 50 canadian dollars, it was working great, then the plastic started falling apart. we got a steal liner for it and JB-welded the rest of it back together and it was working great, till the gear striped. not the gear on the motor thats metal, and not the gear on the roller guide either. the middle gear ...
