“There is room in the community of deafness for an organization like Hands & Voices, and in fact, I think parents, and even many professionals, have been crying out for a group like this,” says LeeAnne Seaver, Executive Director of Hands & Voices national organization. “Somehow parents connecting to other parents provides an element of credibility; there's a level of 'knowing & feeling' that ...EHDI Program Update: CDC's Progress in Detecting Infant Hearing Loss CDC's EHDI has made clear progress in supporting the early identification in deaf and hard of hearing infants. The earlier children with hearing loss are identified and start getting intervention, the more likely they will reach their full potential. Hands & Voices is a parent driven, non-profit organization dedicated to providing unbiased support to families with children who are deaf or hard of hearing. Deaf children with autism can display challenging behavior. This can be due to frustration at not being able to express themselves due to delayed language, or because of a 'meltdown'. For children without language it can be difficult to know what's causing challenging behavior, but it's important to work with the child to try to find the cause so you can then act to reduce or remove it.
