

Download Industrial Pipefitter Study Guide

A pipefitter usually starts with on-the-job training as a helper where they sweep floors, pull and prep materials. Then they attend technical schooling as an apprentice to earn an associate's degree in steam fitting. Plumbing Trade Schools. Plumbing trade schools can offer you the opportunity to pursue a future in an in-demand, practical career field. If you love working with your hands and enjoy challenging work, becoming a plumber could be a sound career choice for you. Academic Programs All academic programs are approved for veterans education benefits. Training Programs The following training programs, also known as Corporate and Continuing Education, are approved for veterans education benefits. Pre-employment programs and some full-time programs give you a head start with a foundation to confidently enter the workforce and become an apprentice.