This page is a collection of links for parents and teachers. Topics are based on the curriculum for Kindergarten through grade five, although many pages will be of interest to older students. This page also includes a list of publishers and software companies. This chapter examines some of the literature demonstrating an impact of affect on social behavior. It will consider the influence of affect on cognition in an attempt to further understand on the way cognitive processes may mediate the effect of feelings on social behavior. Confidence in speaking and listening for purpose is vitally important in the development of these life skills. Setting ground rules that ensure the physical and emotional security of each student, where the students are consulted in the devising of these rules, will go a long way in establishing an environment of productive engagement in speaking and listening for purpose.
